Design of members and structures of reinforced concrete is a problem distinct from but closely related to analysis. Strictly speaking, it is almost impossible to exactly analyze a concrete structure, and to design exactly is no less difficult. Fortunately, we can make a few fundamental

USC School of Architecture is a place where practitioners are created, and where the role of the architect, landscape architect, urban designer, theorist, historian, and technology and science specialist is redefined. Our programs give students numerous degree options to best pursue their individual interests and goals.
